

The moon started to descend out of the dispirited clouds onto the soft seas, where it rested bringing a path of sparkling moon dust. The astronauts were signalled that it was time to blast off to the moon, and here comes Lucia! She was nearly late! But a fact about her was that she believed that this could be dangerous if it was a full moon because she believed that when a full moon strikes, and you look at it, it can turn people into werewolves! Let's see if that myth is true...

321 BLAST OFFF!!!

Screamed the astronaut captain, Lucia peered out of the window and saw the moon ahead of her. Up close it looked as crystallised as an alluring bunch of diamonds, yet the background behind it such as space as we call it looked despondent. They slowly saw the moon in motion slowly gliding across the sky like an elegant swan on the river bank.

Suddenly she got told by her friend, Michael, to buckle up because they were landing. She did what she was told ecstatic of the fact she will finally achieve her childhood dream, landing on the moon.

Warning, Warning Werewolf outbreak on earth! Protect your families at home and don't go out at all or you might get killed! "I KNEW IT I KNEW IT!" Screamed Lucia, she activated her visor just in case if she stares at the moon again she might turn into one, unluckily all the other astronauts visors were broken!

They started to turn, fur coming out of their backs, their suits ripped and teared, their feet grew bigger developing fur on them and then they grew their long noses. Luckily they just landed so Lucia escaped them in time, she was lucky because werewolves can't breathe in space, guess she had to stay on the moon and survive until the werewolf outbreak stops. She was distraught her best friend Michael died to a myth she believed in! She fell to her knees and sobbed for a while, but she felt happy knowing at least she didn't die.

She saw another rocket heading to the Moon as well, she waved at them so they could get her home and told them to put their visors on so they wouldn't turn, they were her new team for now while the outbreak strikes its worst. They gathered samples of moon rock to study then headed back to earth, unluckily the station they stopped at was invaded with werewolves that were taller than a roller coaster. The aspect of them was you could smell them before you saw them, you saw their razor sharp teeth in between their jaws and their hair what spiked up, their fur infested with fleas, dirt and fungi. Lucia and her new crew were in danger.

They quickly fled but the whole area was swarmed with werewolves. Lucia was shivering, knees wobbling and her courage was as thin as ice, she was stuck, she thought this was the end. Suddenly, the Sun started to appear, cloaking the moons light. The blazing sun started to ascend from down below, she checked if she was dreaming but it was true this nightmare ended! Everyone started to lose their scruffy, messy fur as it fell strand by strand. Their razor sharp teeth turned into normal pearly white teeth and their terrible stench disappeared, Lucia thought to herself, 'Maybe this experience isn't as bad as I thought, I mean I still got to achieve my childhood dream plus I got to see the aspect of the moon up close in the rocket for a while.'

Now that's the myth Lucia believed in and it was true! However, let's see if it happens to you, whoever is reading this next time be careful when a full moon comes around or else this might happen to you!
